Because of the General Data Protection Regulations, commonly referred to as GDPR, we are required to get your agreement regarding the use of your data.

For the administration of the Society we need names and addresses of all members. If we do not already have these (see above) can you please complete, together with the plot details you will be associated with. However, to facilitate the ease of administration we also want to use telephone, and particularly email, as prime methods of communication wherever possible and with the requirements of the data protection legislation in mind, we need your agreement for this.

We may already have some contact details:

Email: «email»

Telephone Number(s): «Phone»

Could you please check these contact details, correct if required and, if blank, consider giving us the necessary information.

We then request you to sign below to give your consent to Brentwood Horticultural Society CIO contacting you for administration, communication, and marketing purposes.

Our intension is that these data may be shared with the Officers of the Society, Society Office Holders, the Newsletter Coordinator, and with the Site Reps for your specific site but no one else within the Society or with anyone outside the Society. However, there are other official and legal circumstances where we may have to go beyond this. For a complete guide please see the Privacy Policy on our website.
